COMMITTEE.

A Fine Pole.

Our enterprising fellow-citizen, Ferdinand Roessing, raised on his brewery lot, on Monday a fine hickory pole, flying the names of Cleveland and Thurman. Never before in the political history of Henry county do we believe there has been so many hickories raised as are being raised this campaign. It is an omen of success and shows the faith the Democrats have in their cause, believing it to be right and just. Raise the old hickories, boys, and who knows when the sun goes down upon the 6th of November next but that even Ohio will be raised up out of the Republican slough into the living bright and shining array of Democratic States!

Defiance Democratic Cadets.

The Defiance Democratic Cadets, headed by an excellent band of music, accompanied Hon. W. D. Hill to Napoleon Monday evening. The boys were neatly uniformed, well drilled, and presented a fine appearance, and their gentlemanly bearing was noticed and commented upon by our citizens.

Before Mr. Hill's address the cadets paraded the principal streets, accompanied by the Napoleon Cleveland and Thurman Club, which was headed by our excellent city band. Considering that no preparations were completed for the parade, the Napoleon boys having barely time to get their trowsers washed and filled, having been disappointed in their arrival. As it was, the parade was creditable and much enjoyed by all.

Getting Ready.

Saur & Balsley are busy now receiving their fall and winter stock of drugs, medicines, books and stationery of all kinds. When their purchases are all in they will have a larger, nicer and cleaner stock on hand than ever before and the prices will be as low, and some goods even lower than those of any other house. They propose to make a specialty of the school book trade and those having purchases to make in this line will do well to call at this house and examine their stock, besides they will always find nearly everything in their line on hand, and when sending in an order, can rely on having it filled promptly. A new stock of miscellaneous books has also been purchased, and when in, all lovers of good reading matter should examine it. It will comprise nearly everything that is new and standard in the line of poems, biography, scientific, etc.

Married.

On Thursday, Sept. 27th, Miss Emma Wendt and Mr. Herm. Schuster were wedded at the residence of the bride's uncle, Henry Helberg, Rev. Dammann officiating. There were about sixty young couple present, among them the following: Adolph Reddersen, Anna Benemaw, Herr. Lange, Mary Politz, W. G. Schultz, Anna Panning, Herman Pralle, Mary Geyer. Those were present from Napoleon; and also the following: Wm. Spangler, Henry Holtermann and wife, and R. H. Bruns and wife. The presents were numerous and fine, and the Okolona band rendered some very fine music. There were abundance of everything for the inner man, and a general good time was had, many of the guests enjoying themselves until daylight next morning.

At a meeting of the Cleveland and Thurman Club Saturday evening, the following officers were selected for the marching club: C. E. Reynolds—Captain.

David Baker—1st Lieutenant.

E. C. Dodd—2nd Lieutenant.

Chas. Rostetter—Color Bearer.

This is no personal campaign, but one of good, straight, party principle. Democrats, don't allow anybody to persuade you to vote against any of your party nominees because that somebody may have a vicious personal feeling toward the candidate. It is your principles that you are voting, and for representation of your principles.

The Signal has published a ditch notice and it is as tickled over it as a two-year-old babe is with a stick of taffy, and imagines that the Northwest envies it. Oh, no, the Northwest is too big a boy to be affected much by such paltry things. It is growing and prospering, and will continue to grow and prosper if it never sees another ditch notice. The Signal has yet to learn that it takes something more than filthy lure and mud to make a paper what the people want.

While Democrats are jubilant and confident, the Republicans are sour and discouraged. Their somersault on the tariff question has broken the "spine of their back" and the vim is all taken out of them. Their platform last year said the tariff needed equalizing, this year they say it shall not be touched! Let it alone, but you may take the tax off whisky, tobacco and bogus butter if you wish! That is the load which is carrying the G. O. P. to its grave.

VORTIEDE-HEILER.

Again it becomes our pleasant duty as a chronicler of events to record the marriage of another of Napoleon's fair daughters, which event removes from our midst one of the brightest and most popular of the many young ladies which grace and bless our beautiful little city.

The immediate parties interested were Miss Madge Heller, only remaining single daughter of Hon. and Mrs. S. M. Heller, and Henry Vortiede, one of Toledo's best and most popular and rising young men.

The happy event was solemnized at the home of the bride on Wednesday evening of last week, in the presence of relatives and a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties from Napoleon, Toledo and other neighboring places, making one of the most brilliant assemblages in the history of Napoleon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. L. Donahay, in his usual impressive and happy style, after which the young couple received congratulations and best wishes from their friends present.

The attendants upon the bride and groom were Mr. Ed. Whittaker and Miss Mattie Stebbins, Mr. Will Tyler and Miss Mayne Wilson, Mr. John Howe and Miss Maude Heller, all of whom were elegantly and faultlessly attired. The spacious rooms were beautifully and artistically decorated with vines and flowers, the whole making a pleasant and enchanting picture to the eye.

The bride's gown was white moire, decollete en traine, point lace and diamonds. Miss Heller, maid of honor, wore saxe cloth and white moire; Miss Wilson, white cloth and moire; Miss Stebbins, light blue cloth and white moire. Each of the bridesmaids carried an artistic basket of flowers tied with bows of ribbon. Mrs. Heller, mother of the bride, wore a handsome black lace gown, with point lace and diamonds.

The guests from Toledo were Miss Vortiede, sister of the groom, wearing an elegant mauve tulle with copper trimmings.

Miss Hiss, cream bougainville with serpent green silk dresses with cut jet ornaments.

Miss Walbridge, saxe satin and black velvet.

Mrs. C. Z. Kroh, cream satin with silver brocade en traine.

Miss Wilsey Lorenz, light blue satin with silver trimmings.

Mrs. Poe and Mrs. Frank Trout, of Findlay, black silk dresses with cut jet ornaments.

Among the Napoleon guests were Mrs. Julian Tyler, sister of the bride, handsome white gown en traine and diamonds.

Mrs. Dr. Shoemaker, light gray silk and point lace.

Mrs. Washington Heller, black silk.

Mrs. Walbridge, saxe satin and black velvet.

Mrs. Dr. Tyler, black lace and diamonds.

Mrs. C. Z. Kroh, cream satin with silver brocade en traine.

Miss Kate Wilson, red silk and white lace, decollete.

Mrs. D. Kemmell, handsome black velvet.

Miss Humphrey, saxe silk with green gariture, decollete.

Mrs. Donahay, black silk.

Miss Hagas, goblein blue moire, decollete.

Mrs. J. Angenstein, black lace.

Mrs. Russell Heller, black silk.

Miss Kate Wilson, red silk and white lace, decollete.

Miss Mary Glass, handsome black silk and point lace.

Miss See Wilson, red cloth and silver braiding.

Mrs. E. Shuman, black silk and jet.

Mrs. Milton Heller, black lace and diamonds.

Mrs. J. C. Grover, grandmother of the bride, elegant black silk.

After the ceremony and congratulations the party were invited to partake of the wedding supper, which was one of the most sumptuous ever served in Napoleon. The repast was perfect in all its different courses, the host and hostess on this occasion fully sustained their well earned reputation as royal entertainers, not only pleasing the eye but tickling the appetite of the inner man.

The presents were most beautiful and numerous, among them might be noticed:

From the groom, diamond bracelet.

S. M. Heller, check for $1,000.

Miss Vortiede, deed for lot in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Heller, silver bowl.

F. W. Showman and wife, silver tea set.

F. M. and C. M. Showman, chair.

Carl and Sam Shoemaker, Smyrna rug.

Mr. Will Vortiede, $30 bill.

The happy couple left on the evening train for Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati and other cities, amid the throwing of rice bags for good luck and the best wishes of friends for a safe and pleasant journey and return home.

Friends have already received Mr. and Mrs. Vortiede's cards announcing that they will be at home to them after November 1st, at 380 17th St., Toledo.

To Lovers of Dancing.

The Young Americans Hook and Ladder Company will give their annual ball at Rink Opera House, Napoleon, O., Tuesday evening, October 9th. We have no hesitancy in saying to the public that this ball will surpass any yet given by this company. They have secured the Napoleon Orchestra for this occasion which is a guaranty of the very best of music by which to trip the light fantastic. So take your girl, or somebody else, and spend the evening at the ball.
